Shaping our future

- “....the present initiative launched throughout the country by various universities, NCERT and educational foundations would enable the country to realize near 100 per cent literacy and employable skills among youth, leading to a knowledge society by the year 2020”.

President Abdul Kalam, Speech on national television on August 14,2006

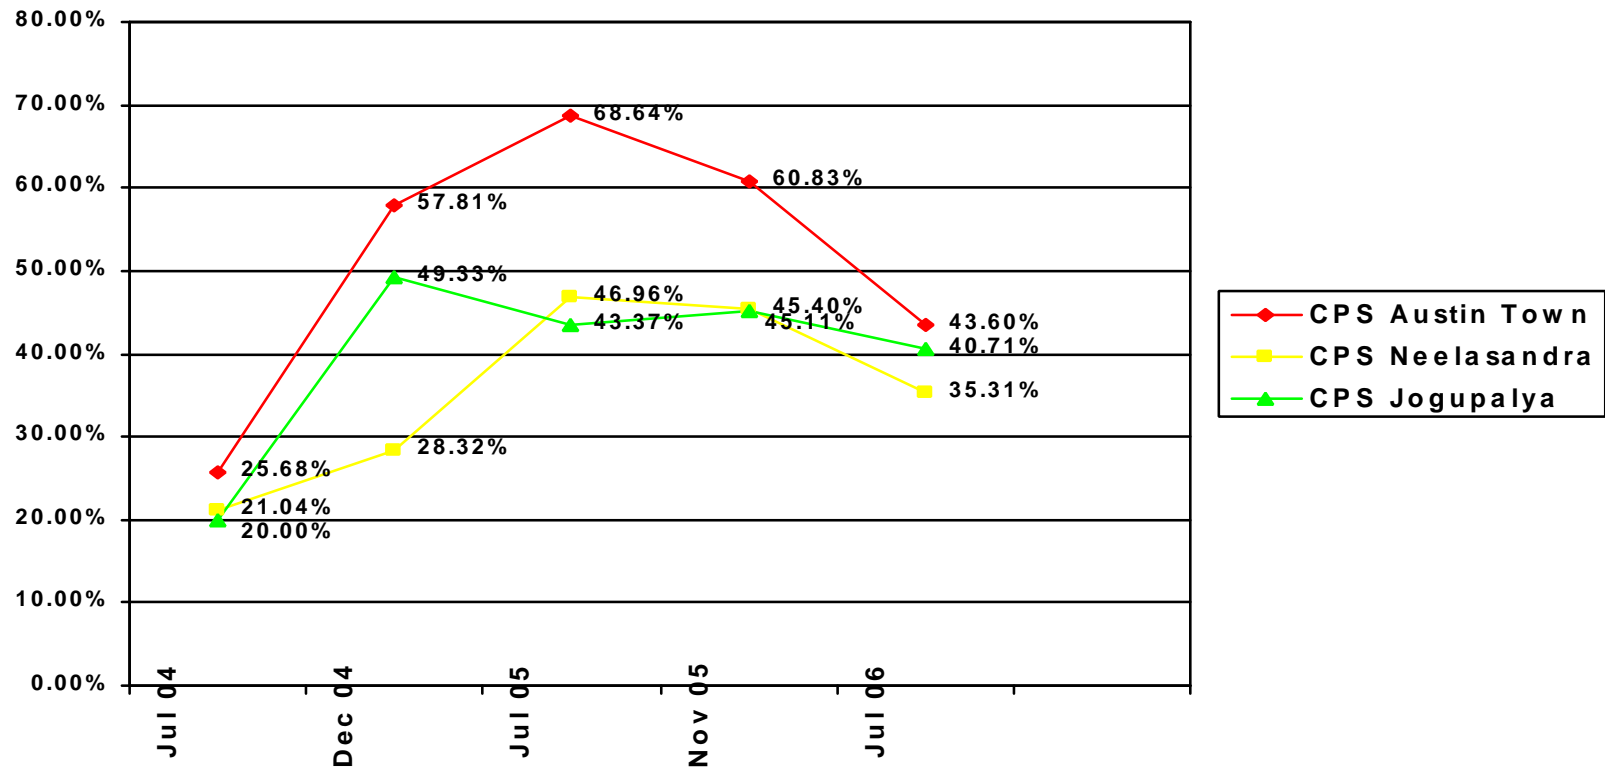

- Bangalore –
 - IT / BT capital of the country
 - Closest to Knowledge Society that we have in India
- What is the state of primary education in our city?
- What do we as citizens do anything at all about the current state?

Score cards show little change

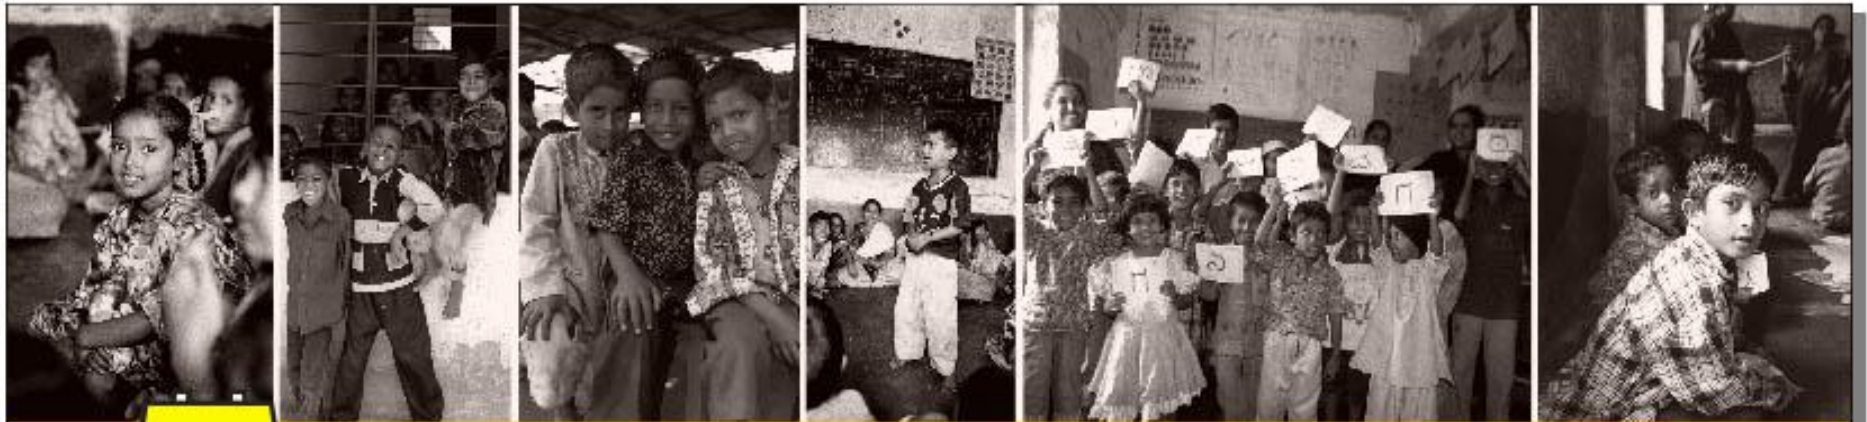

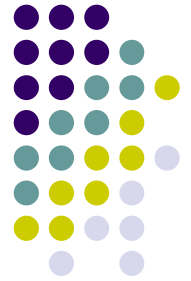

Solutions exist and are possible

- PROOF in Education estimates that infrastructure needs of all BMP primary schools can be met with a capex of Rs.140 lakhs based on MPED costs
 - School-by-school data available and submitted by BMP
- Teaching and non-teaching staff vacancies need to be filled
 - Need teacher vacancies filled in the schools
 - Need HMs in all schools
 - Need PKs and other non-teaching staff to work in the schools
- Invest in teacher training
 - Increase training levels to SSA standards
- Need School based budgeting
 - PROOF has created templates based on BMP heads of accounts
 - Need Account heads in FBAS so that expenses versus plan can be monitored
- Extend PROOF to all schools in BMP to increase system-level efficiencies
